I. READING

Mark is Irish. He's twelve years old. He lives with his parents, grandmother and two twin sisters in Dublin, the capital of Ireland. They live in a nice detached house in the suburbs of the city. Mark and his sisters go to a secondary school there. The school is not very far from their house. They usually walk or cycle to school. When they walk, it takes them 20 minutes to get to school. When it's raining, they catch a bus to school. It takes them only 7 minutes to get there by bus.
When his father was young, he went to school on foot every day. He had to walk three kilometres! It was OK when it wasn't raining.
His grandmother didn't go to school at all. She had lessons at home. She didn't like it because she didn't have many friends. She's very good at history and she sometimes helps Mark with his homework. Jenny and Jane, Mark's younger sisters are very good at Maths, Science, English and Geography. Mark has a friend at school. His name is Jim. He's got short fair curly hair and blue eyes. He is short, he's only 150 centimetres tall. He is very kind and always smiles. He is also really helpful. When Mark has problems with his Maths, Jim always helps him. Jim can be really funny. He tells great jokes! He is never unkind or bad-tempered.
