

I. READING

- As you know, there aren't enough policemen nowadays. A lot of people don't join the police because they think the work is dull and underpaid. Well, if you ask me, I think a policeman's job is more interesting than most other jobs. The pay isn't all that bad, either. I live in a police house and I don't have to pay any rent. When I joined the police 24 years ago, our main job was to fight crime. Today we have to do all kinds of other work. More and more policemen are helping in social work. I don't think policemen mind hard work as long as they feel they're doing something useful. In the future, I think, even more policemen will be needed. They'll also have to fight new kinds of crime.
