I. READING

Simon Marley lives in London. His family comes from India, but they live in England now. They are immigrants. Mr Marley is an engineer and he works in the computer company. His wife is a nurse at the hospital in the suburbs of London. They have now a small terraced house near the River Thames.

Simon is 15 years old. He has two sisters and a brother. Tina is 13 and Rita is 11. His brother Arjuna is 18 and he is a student at Cambridge University.

Every morning Simon gets up at 7.30. Before he goes to school he has traditional English breakfast: fried bacon and eggs, a sausage, beans, tomatoes, toast and coffee. He is at school between 9 and 4 o’clock p.m. This year he is studying English, Spanish, Maths, Physics, Chemistry, Geography, Information Technology and Physical Education. His favourite subject is IT. He is also very good at Maths and languages. In his free time Simon likes reading adventure novels, rollerblading, horse riding, fishing in the Thames, playing the guitar and surfing the Internet.

When he leaves school he wants to go to university and become a computer programmer.
